

ASSASSINATION OF LINCOLN—A Scene in Ford's Theatre, Washington, as vividly shown in the mammoth spectacle "THE BIRTH OF A NATION" at the New Theatre, November 6-7, with a Matinee Tuesday.

Madry's magnificent spectacle "The Birth of a Nation", which commenced a two days engagement at Madry's Opera House November 6th, is a masterpiece. During the past season in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, St. Louis and in all of the large cities in the country the past records for long runs have been eclipsed and new records established that are almost unbelievable. Over six million people have enjoyed the spectacle. Never before have so many people flocked to see an entertainment. Every day the theatres have been filled wherever it has been presented. Where return engagements have been played the attendance has been larger than during the earlier engagements. It is of extremely rare occurrence that anyone is satisfied with one seeing of this wonderful production. The safe to say that three million people have seen it at least two times.

Few people realize that fifty people are required to properly present to the public this gigantic production. There is an orchestra of thirty carefully selected musicians, expert operators, electricians and others who make up a roster as large as that of most dramatic companies, in fact much larger than the average. It is the massiveness in both material and manner of presentation of "Birth of a Nation" that has made the public not only willing but eager to pay the prices necessarily charged for such a production. In the Griffith spectacle the scenes of sheer strength and beauty are of Homeric grandeur. Not even Nero ever gazed upon so magnificent spectacle. The night riding of the Ku Klux Klan looks like a company of avenging spirits sweeping along the moonlight roads. There is a pictorial punch in every scene.

This realistic pictorial reproduction of history in the making is of untold value to both young and old. Schools have been dismissed all over the United States that the children might attend matinee performances. Besides the historical worth of this offering the constant emotion of the story thrills the heart of all. It is the supreme achievement of modern histrionics and its newest guise untrammelled by the limitations of the stage. Never did those who participated in the actual scenes ever see what can be witnessed today in the comfort of a theatre seat for those who lived then never had such a comprehensive outlook. The coming return of the "Birth of a Nation" will be absolutely the last in this city. The sale of seats opens at the Whitehead Drug Store Friday morning. It hardly seems necessary to impress upon the public the great advantage of purchasing their seats well in advance. The production of the "Birth of a Nation" will be exactly as that of last season. The high standard of excellence will be maintained in every detail.
